

Spiritual Basics are some spiritual parenting lessons that you can assist a new believer to complete. These lessons are not a comprehensive study of everything that a Christian needs to know and put into practice, but they are some of the basics—the “milk” of the Word. As you lead a new believer in these lessons, he or she will undoubtedly have questions that you will likely be prepared to answer. If questions arise that you cannot answer, you can always say, “That's a great question. Let me ask some other people how they understand this topic.”
